

GOSLIN BACK TO GO TO PRISON.

Convicted Stock Manipulator Surrendered After Bail Had Been Forfeited.

CONVICTED MONTHS AGO

Sentence of Six Months in the Blackwell's Island Penitentiary Upheld by Court of Appeals.

Alfred R. Goslin, who is credited to Wall street rumor with precipitating the raid on Webb-Meyer stocks, today surrendered himself to the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court to serve a sentence of six months in the Blackwell's Island Penitentiary. The sentence was originally passed in July, 1907, when Goslin was convicted of circulating false rumors about R. R. T. stock. He appealed, but the Court of Appeals finally decided against him in an opinion dated April 15 last.

Goslin's case was called at 11 o'clock. At that time he was not present, nor was he represented by counsel. His bail bond was forfeited and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest. Goslin appeared an hour later, saying that he had understood he was to report at noon. The forfeiture of the bond was rescinded and Goslin was sent to the Tombs, a preliminary to starting for the penitentiary.

BICYCLE THIEVES ACTIVE.

Gang Report Robbers at Mount Vernon and Get Costly Wheels.

(Special to The Evening World.)

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., May 7.—The police are looking for a gang of bicycle thieves who have been operating in Mount Vernon and other Westchester towns. Today it was discovered that thieves had broken into a bicycle store on Pearl street and stolen four $20 wheels.

Several days ago the same store was robbed. It is believed that the thieves are expert bicyclists, who ride away on stolen wheels.

PANIC FOLLOWS FOUNDRY EXPLOSION

Cas Engine Burst, Horribly Maiming Engineer Schwartz—500 Employees in Wild Dash for Safety.

A thirty-five horse power gas engine in the iron foundry of August Neitz, Nos. 128-132 Mott street, exploded this afternoon and fatally wounded Rudolph Schwartz, the engineer.

Schwartz was buried in the wreck of the engine. His nose and ears were blown off and his body was horribly burned.

Five hundred hands were employed in the foundry. There was no warning of the explosion. It came with terrific force and shook the whole building. There was a panic as the men rushed for the street.

When it was seen that the building would not fall, the men returned to the cellar and dragged Schwartz from the ruins. He was conscious and begged for a priest. One was brought from the Italian Church of the Precious Blood. Then the engineer was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital. It was said there that he was the most frightfully injured man who had ever been brought to the hospital.

All the way to the hospital he kept crying: "What will my wife and children do?" Schwartz is thirty-five years old and lived at No. 22 East Seventy-first street.

BROADWAY EXCITED.

Wee Blaze in Hoffman House Kitchen Causes Commotion.

A little fire in the kitchen of the Hoffman House caused enough excitement at Broadway and Twenty-fifth streets this afternoon for a full fledged conflagration. But that was all there was to it—excitement.

A little man with side whiskers saw a great column of smoke coming from the chimney of the skyscraper hotel. "Fire," he cried, and sped to an alarm box.

The firemen came up in a flash, but by the time they arrived four or five hundred persons were running about, blocking the roadway.

The fire of grease that blazed up in the kitchen had been put out before the smoke got fairly out of the chimney.

VIRGINIA SCHOOL BURNED.

Two Students Missing and Probably Lost Their Lives.

RICHMOND, Va., May 7.—(Special to The Evening World.)—The Virginia School, near Charlottesville, was destroyed by fire this morning.

Students Knox, of Richmond, and Dixon, of Alexandria, are missing and are supposed to have perished in the flames.

MILLIONAIRE'S SON CHARGED WITH CRUELTY IN THIRD SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

Wife of Robert T. Lister, Newark Notable, Who Consented to Two Reconciliations, Now Asks the Court for an Absolute Decree.

MRS. EMMA T. LISTER AND TWO DAUGHTERS.

(Special to The Evening World.)—NEWARK, N. J., May 7.—When the Lister divorce case was resumed before Vice-Chancellor Emery today the court-room was filled with a gathering of stylishly dressed women, all friends of Mrs. Emma T. Lister, who, after withdrawing two former suits brought by her, is now suing her husband, Robert Lister, for absolute divorce.

Mrs. Lister, fashionably attired in black silk, took the stand. Her husband sat directly facing her, but apparently took little interest in her argument of him. Her sharp glance, cast in his direction, had no visible effect. The plaintiff appeared greatly worked up and her black eyes fairly glowed as she replied to her lawyer's questions.

Mrs. Lister, who was one of the handsomest young women in Northern New Jersey previous to her marriage to the young millionaire, testified that their unhappiness began in 1888, during the first year of their married life.

They went to Ashbury Park and it was on the return trip the first quarrel occurred. Her husband compelled her to hold his dog while he went into the depot. The dog got away and Lister gave chase, telling her to get on the train. When he returned he abused her.

When their first child was dying she declared he evinced no interest in it. In 1896, when their now eldest child was three years old, he struck her because she did not answer a question quick enough to suit him. She was bathing the child's eyes at the time.

Mrs. Lister said that while they were living at the Continental Hotel he choked her and again shook his fist in her face exclaiming, "I will do you yet."

Mrs. Lister said he abused her in the dining-room of the hotel until she had to leave the table. She condoned his conduct on many occasions and went back to live with him again, withdrawing suits she had brought on two occasions against him.

He was quarrelsome and never satisfied with what she did. The Listers have two beautiful little girls, who are now living with their mother. They were not in court today.

TWO CHILDREN CUT OFF BY HER WILL.

Mrs. Isabella Levy Gives Only $1 Each to Her Son Lionel and Her Daughter Amelia C.

"I give and bequeath to my son Lionel and to my daughter Amelia C. each the sum of $1 and it is my will that they shall not receive any other sum or have any other or greater interest in my estate."

This is one of the clauses in the will of Mrs. Isabella Levy, of No. 240 Seventh avenue, in her will, filed this afternoon. She leaves her estate to her husband, Ernest A. Levy, and their other children. The children include Herman Levy, who was the Tammany candidate against Alderman Myers, of the Thirty-fourth District, Rose, Louis and Miriam Helen Levy.

The will was last March 11, 1902. No petition was filed and no reason is given for cutting out two of her children, all of whom are mature. Alderman Elias Goodman is named as an executor.

FIVE "L" STATIONS MAY BE CUT OFF.

State Railroad Commission Authorizes Reductions on the Fulton Street Line in Brooklyn.

ALBANY, May 7.—The State Board of Railroad Commissioners has authorized the Brooklyn Heights Railroad Company to discontinue the use of the following stations on the Fulton street line of the Kings County Elevated Railroad:

At Tillary and Clark streets, at Boerum place, at Lafayette avenue, at Cumberland street, and at Vanderbilt avenue.

The board refused to authorize the abandonment of the stations at Grand and Flatbush avenues.

DAUGHTER OPPOSES MRS. LARNER'S SUIT

Declares She Would Have Prevented Mother's Marriage to Her Young Husband—Witness Says Lerner Threatened Him.

A dozen hotel-keepers today testified before Justice Gildersleeve to the escapades of Mrs. Alma Louise Lerner in their hotels. John Dengel, a Brooklyn baker, said that her youthful husband also had bad habits.

John Dengel related the story of Mrs. Lerner and said her husband, Albert E. Lerner, often visited him. The only time he ever saw him sober Lerner said to him:

"Old man, I won't forget you. I've got a chance to get in on this property some day, and I'll sell you this place right."

Suddenly Dengel, apparently in much fear, pointed at the beardless young husband of Mrs. Lerner and shouted: "I am afraid of that man! He is a dangerous man. He is threatening me now; sitting there and shaking his head at me and making motions."

Mrs. Lerner's counsel protested, but Justice Gildersleeve said he would allow the outburst to remain on the record.

Miss Coddington testified that her mother's marriage to Lerner was in 1890, not in 1888, as the mother and her young husband had said, and that her mother married Lerner while a sheriff's jury was engaged in examining into her mental condition. She came back to court on Lerner's arm after a recess, and announced their marriage. This broke up that proceeding.

Miss Coddington said she had told her mother that if she got free from the sanatorium and returned to her old habits she would take her brothers and sisters and go to Europe with them. She declared she "hated all the Larners" and had begun an action for the annulment of her mother's marriage to young Lerner.

"On what grounds?" Mr. MacFarland asked.

"Because I and my friends do not believe my mother was in a condition to marry at that time."

"How do you know she was not in condition? You were not there, were you?" the cross-examiner demanded.

Miss Coddington leaned forward toward the lawyer and fairly hissed: "No, if I had been there there would have been no marriage. I know that she had been in the care of a nurse and was not in a proper condition."

Miss Coddington testified that her mother's marriage to Lerner was in 1890, not in 1888, as the mother and her young husband had said, and that her mother married Lerner while a sheriff's jury was engaged in examining into her mental condition. She came back to court on Lerner's arm after a recess, and announced their marriage. This broke up that proceeding.

MISS VIRGINIA GRANES

Tells How Hospital Physicians Use and Rely Upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—Twelve years' continuous service at the sick bed in some of our prominent hospitals, as well as at private homes, has given me varied experiences with the diseases of women. I have nursed

MISS VIRGINIA GRANES.

President of Nurses' Assoc'n, Watertown, N. Y. Some most distressing cases of inflammation and ulceration of the ovaries and womb. I have known that doctors used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when everything else failed with their patients. I have advised my patients and friends to use it and have yet to hear of its first failure to cure.

"Four years ago I had falling of the womb from straining in lifting a heavy patient, and knowing of the value of your Compound I began to use it at once, and in six weeks I was well once more, and have had no trouble since. I am most pleased to have had an opportunity to say a few words in praise of your Vegetable Compound, and shall take every occasion to recommend it."

MISS VIRGINIA GRANES.—$5,000 forfeit if above testimonial is not genuine.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has stood the test of time, and has cured thousands. Mrs. Pinkham advises sick women free. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Our SUITS at $15.

The fame of our $15 suits is spreading far and wide.

The fact that we buy our woollens direct from the mills weaving the goods and then make the garments in our own work-rooms gives us great advantages. It enables us to use a better quality of material as well as assuring a better grade of workmanship than is usually put into suits at $15.

In the suits will be found the very newest materials—made up in the latest military cut, short and full—broad shoulders, wide sleeves.

And we can fit any man, be he short or tall, stout or slim.
